ROME DELIGHTS TO HONOR THREE U. S. CARDINALS

Gibbons, Farley and O'Connell Most Popular Prelates—Guests of Ambassador Page.

Rome, June 6.—The recent consistory afforded new proof of the tremendous popularity of American cardinals enjoy here.

Cardinal Gibbons, who has not visited Rome in many years, was received with princely honors. A host of prelates and nobles met him at the station and eagerly inquired after his health. His Eminence jokingly replied that after a long sea voyage he generally felt better and younger.

Cardinal Farley has had the busiest time of all. There was not a monastery, convent or seminary which did not invite him to call and bless the inmates. The Cardinal made it a point to disappoint nobody, and most of his time in Rome was devoted to visiting religious institutions.

Cardinal O'Connell has forever associated his name with one of the greatest archaeological monuments in the city, and a tablet, placed in the walls of the crypt in St. Clement's, records the generosity of many Romanians of enlightened minds.

The Cardinal has brought to light the remains of the Temple Mithra, of whose cult in ancient Rome little is known despite archaeological efforts to solve the mystery.

Generous in Aiding Poor. When the American cardinals departed they left in their wake many benedictions from thousands of deserving poor, whom they succored liberally, judging from the little known, the American cardinals proved to be the most charitable of all. As to the donations brought in the form of the Cardinal's pence, nothing definite is known, but it is said the amount sent to Rome by the three largest American dioceses is nearly a million francs.

Ambassador O'Brien's dinner last year to Cardinal O'Connell established a precedent which Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page cheerfully followed, producing a fine impression in the American colony.

Mr. Page entertained each cardinal separately, taking care to exclude from the list of guests those who would have given the function a political meaning and robbed it of its air of intimacy. Thus the list of guests included only men prominent in artistic, scientific and literary circles of the capital.

Cardinals O'Connell and Farley have both gone to Switzerland, and while Cardinal Farley is now in Bruggen, Cardinal O'Connell has not yet decided where he will stop for a fortnight's rest.

Many visitors in Rome. Consistory week attracted to Rome a large number of visitors, who would otherwise have remained with the hotel colonies in the woods surrounding the Italian lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reick and three daughters, of New York, spent the past week visiting the city and near-by towns, and will shortly go to Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Hewitt, of Chicago, and niece, Charlotte G. Smith, of Detroit, are also at the Excelsior.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall and Mr. and Mrs. E. Babson, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. H. Orrich, of San Francisco; J. W. Havins, of Berkeley, Cal.; Mrs. Hugh Grant, daughter and son, and Mr. C. W. Alexander, of New York, are at the Grand; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bennett, of Chicago; Miss A. D. Palmer, Miss M. L. Spring, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. French, of New York, are at the Hotel; and Mrs. M. Sanborn Han- korne and Miss Anna E. Evans, of New York, are at the Angleterre.

Mrs. Kilpatrick Rafferty and Miss Mercedes Rafferty, the wife and daughter of Colonel Rafferty, were among those presented to the Pope by Cardinal Gibbons.

On Monday night the musical department had its usual soiree. A more perfect day for the graduation exercises could not have been wished for. At 10:30 o'clock the graduates took their seats on the grandstand. The speaker for the occasion was the venerable Ernest A. Rice, archdeacon of Western Virginia. The valedictory was given by Miss Bessie Hann, and the salutatory by Miss Leslie Patterson.

Had Lung Trouble and Expected to Die

The many recoveries brought about by Eckman's Alternative are attracting wide attention. Read about this case:—

"Gentlemen:—I was sick in November, 1908. I grew steadily worse. Had fever had affected my lungs and that my case was hopeless; only gave me two months to live. My physician had tried most all kinds of treatment and none did me any good, so he asked me to be asked if he objected to him trying a proprietary medicine. I began to feel better. I was in bed from November 29, 1908, until February 25, 1909, and I was thought dying several times. Today I am healthier and stronger than ever." (Abbreviated.)

(Signed) MRS. H. K. BRILEY.

Eckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Sold by Truett Drug Co., and other leading druggists. Write Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet of recoveries—Advertisement.
